

Coriander
gives curry its refreshing aroma.

Allspice
Known for its sweet, refreshing flavor. From the berries of the pimento tree.

Sage
has a hint of bitterness, and a refreshing scent that masks other scents.

Oregano
This spice has a natural fragrance which can mask raw odors.

White Pepper
is milder than black pepper and complements fish.

Garlic
In use around the world for centuries. It has a strong, unique fragrance.

Laurel
gives curry a bitter scent and was sacred in ancient Greece.

Cardamom
Its clear, sweet, gingery aroma makes it the "King of Fragrances."

Cinnamon
One of the five great spices in China.

Cumin
A fragrant spice, it is the principal source of curry's unique flavor.

Red Pepper
Renowned for its hotness, which comes from its capsaicin.

Rosemary
In shape, it resembles a sprig of pine. Marked by a refreshing and slightly sweet fragrance.

Cloves
Their pungent, vanilla-like aroma has made them a favorite for centuries.

Ginger
A root with a sharp, sweet taste and a strong aroma that can mask raw odors.

Black Pepper
Its hot, sharp flavor makes it the king of spices.

Star Anise
Often used in Chinese foods, it has a sweet, licorice-like fragrance.

Fennel
combines a soothing scent with a peculiar, licorice-like taste.

Nutmeg
Its sweet, sharp scent complements ground beef. Often used in baked sweets.

Dill
Marked by a refreshing fragrance and sizzling, spicy flavor.

Thyme
An essential spice in Western dishes. It has a refreshing fragrance and spicy taste.

Orange Peel
Dried Chinese orange peel. Often mixed with ground red pepper and aromatic spices.

Turmeric
An essential spice that gives curry its distinctive yellow color.

Tarragon
A type of mugwort, its delicately sweet scent is reminiscent of anise.

House CURRY POWER

House Curry is a powerhouse of spices.

Curry is a mixture of many spices. What makes it so delicious? Each spice delivers a different kind of natural power. Many spices in curry are used to stimulate the palate. That's why curry is the perfect dish.

Ready in 3 minutes

